

Boulder Hot Springs

To Our Wonderful Public,

As 2014 comes to a close, we want to pause and thank all of you for being a part of Boulder Hot Springs. We are blessed to have the staff we have who are committed to making your stay at BHS as healing and enjoyable as possible and we hope that all of us here have been able to contribute to your having a healthier and happier quality of life.

This has been a busy year for the old building. We have continued with the restoration process on the West Wing. This work not only included the anticipated restoration of the ballroom and the bar, it also included the surprise-needed addition of a twenty-four foot steel beam. Much to our surprise, it seems that those who had done previous projects on the West Wing had seen fit to cut through the magnificent old timbers to expedite new plumbing and electric. Although quite a process, we are grateful to have discovered this “problem” and be able to correct it. Such is the work on an old building. There is as much correcting as there is restoring.

Also, on the East Wing, some of you noticed some very impressive icicles on the building between the East Wing and the bathhouse last year. It seems that the soffits, which have not been re-done during our tenure, needed repair – a lot of repair. So, this is a major project this year as well as work on the outdoor pool. All these projects have been and are costly in time and money and will be well worth it for years to come. We welcome your participation as we care for this old place.

We were very excited to have some new groups here such as the Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks event “Becoming an Outdoor Woman,” the Mountain Family Fellowship, and Yoga Motion. In addition, it’s always a pleasure having groups that come back regularly. The new year promises to be a busy one.

As those of you who come here regularly know, if you are looking for a place with a noisy, party-oriented bar with high-tech TV and technology, BHS is probably not for you.

We specialize in serenity and healing in a family-friendly, drug, alcohol and smoke free place where all of us can retreat, relax and re-gather ourselves in a welcoming atmosphere, while having good, old-fashioned fun.

If this setting is for you, please check out our Facebook page <https://www.facebook.com/pages/Boulder-Hot-Springs-Inn-Spa-Retreat-Center/477024209059116>. We currently have a coupon deal in December which you can access by going to our Facebook page or our website www.boulderhotsprings.com.

The holiday time is a wonderful time to come to Boulder because the town has a fantastic light show for the holidays. The festive light display located in Veteran’s Park on Main Street in Boulder features two huge marching nutcrackers, a train which looks like it is moving when you drive by, and swans which are flapping their wings. This year the official lighting of the park was on December 5th and the lights will continue until Christmas. Kudos to the City of Boulder who purchased the lights and made the needed repairs. Pretty impressive for a small town!

We wish all of you a happy, healing, joy-filled and peaceful holiday season and a wonderful New Year.

THE ARTS AT BOULDER HOT SPRINGS

Sue Pasini - Montana Photographer

As a native of the Rocky Mountains, one of Sue's passions has always been exploring and photographing this incredible region.

She has camped, hiked and canoed around Colorado and western Montana for 60 plus years and never tires of the ever changing wonders of the beauty and wildlife.

She currently lives in Boulder and explores the outdoors with her husband Gene, a native of Montana.

Gene Pasini - Graphic Artist

Gene grew up in a mining camp among the trucks, mining equipment and wildlife. He spent his early days drawing sketches of all that he saw. After high school he studied at the Burnley School of Professional Art in Seattle where he fine-honed his drawing skills. He worked for 30 years as a commercial artist in Montana until he retired in 2004.

Since retiring Gene has developed his own business doing free lance art work. He has designed a "Creation Series" of many big game wildlife in Montana , a unique story board in pen and ink of the rut season, romance and sprig outsomes of new-borns.

He has also done numerous drawings of oil rig trucks, heavy haul trailers and mining and logging equipment.
